

Back To The Child

Quiet Proof

Your child does not need a witness.
They need to know you are there.

Pulls me outward

Proving myself

Correcting every story

Controlling outcomes

Watching what others think

Winning the room

Shows what matters

Turning up

Listening closely

Regulating myself

Remembering their world

Staying with what they need

No speech. No fight. No story to win.
Just quiet proof in how you love them.

If your child is everything, let your time show it.

Back to the Child
No blame. No shame. No sides.
